The Pope arrived on the 29th of August with 39,390 pounds of bone, the John and Winthrop on the 9th of September with 21,600 pounds, the bark Coral on the 9th of October with 1,100 barrels of oil and 18,000 pounds of bone, and on the 15th the bark Stamboul reached port with 625 barrels of oil and 7,000 pounds of bone, aggregating for the four vessels 1,725 barrels of oil and

80,990 pounds of bone. The last two vessels were from the Okhotsk Sea, and of course the catch from the Arctic cannot be predicated upon their luck, but the general opinion of the whalers is that for the season a fair eatch can be confidently antici-

Two years ago, when the catch was unprecedently great, the price of oil and bone, as a consequence, fell to a figure which was unsatisfactory to the men who had shipped under a contract by which they were to receive a proportion of the "lay" for their services. Prices, however, on account of the big catch, fell, and the result was dissatisfaction on the part of the men, who discovered, to their cost, that the greater the catch the less the substantial results.

During the past year the whalers were compelled to adopt a different principle in hiring their crews. It became necessary to guarantee a fixed price, below which oil and bone should not gravitate From Maui and Hawaii per stmr W G in the event of an extreme catch. It is Hall.
